

ANALIA MANCUSO NEGREIRA

FRONT END DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

I work as a freelance front end developer and I am an academic tutor of a web development course at Coder House. I have worked in large companies for 10 years building different skills such as teamwork and good work communication. I also have a degree in nutrition, which allows me to have a different vision when working in computer science. I would like to work in a company where I can apply my skills and knowledge to improve the value of the final product.
